Introduction & Overview

What is a GMO?

Genetically modified organisms (GMOs) are made by forcing genes from one species, such as bacteria, viruses, animals, or humans, into the DNA of a food crop or animal in order to introduce a new trait.

Why Should I Avoid GMOs?

The American Academy of Environmental Medicine reported, "Several animal studies indicate serious health risks associated with GM food," including infertility, immune problems, accelerated aging, faulty insulin regulation, and changes in major organs and the gastrointestinal system. They urge physicians to prescribe healthier non-GMO foods to everyone.

Tips to Avoid GMOs

Tip #1: Buy Organic

Certified organic products cannot intentionally include any GMO ingredients. Buy products labeled "100% organic," "organic," or "made with organic ingredients." You can be doubly sure if the product also has a Non-GMO Project Verified Seal.

Tip #2: Look for Non-GMO Project Seals

This guide features brands with products verified by the Non-GMO Project, a non-profit organization committed to providing consumers with clearly labeled and independently verified non-GMO choices, including testing of at-risk ingredients. The Non-GMO Project verifies per individual product, not for an entire brand. Some of the brands listed in this guide offer both GMO and Non-GMO items. Visit NonGMOProject.org for more information on the third-party product verification program.

Tip #3: Avoid At-Risk Ingredients

If it's not labeled organic or verified non-GMO, avoid products made with ingredients that might be derived from GMOs. The eight GM food crops are corn, soybeans, canola, cottonseed, sugar beets, papaya from China, or Hawaii (most) and a small amount of zucchini and yellow squash. GM alfalfa is also fed to livestock.

For more details, including non-GMO verified products, visit NonGMOShoppingGuide.com

Sugar: If a non-organic product made in North America lists “sugar” as an ingredient (and NOT pure cane sugar), then it is almost certainly a combination of sugar from both sugar cane and GM sugar beets.

Dairy products may be from cows injected with GM bovine growth hormone. If it’s not labeled Organic, or Non-GMO Project Verified, look for labels stating No rbGH, rbST, or artificial hormones.

Tip #4: Use the Non-GMO Shopping Guide

Visit NonGMOShoppingGuide.com to see a complete list of Non-GMO products available from each brand in this guide or use the ShopNoGMO App on your iPhone—available for free at the iTunes store.

Alternative Dairy Products

Are you vegan, lactose intolerant or have allergies to dairy? You’re probably already familiar with dairy alternatives, such as soy milk, almond milk, rice milk, and other substitute products. Since so many alternative dairy products are made from soybeans, be aware that they may contain GM materials. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- 365
- Almond Dream
- Amande
- Blue Diamond
- Coconut Secret
- Dream Blends

Baby Foods & Infant Formula

Milk or soy protein is the basis of most infant formulas. The secret ingredients in these products are often soy, or milk from cows injected with rbGH. Many brands also add GMO-derived corn syrup, corn syrup solids, or soy lecithin. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- Earth's Best
- Happy Baby Retort Pouches
- HAPPYBABY Pouches
- HAPPYTOT
- Little Duck Organics
- NurturMe
- Oh Baby Foods
- Organic Baby
- Plum Organics
- Revolution Foods

Beverages

Most juices are made from non-GMO fruit (be cautious of papaya though, as it could be the Hawaiian GMO variety), but the prevalence of corn-based sweeteners—e.g. high-fructose corn syrup (HFCS)—in fruit juices is cause for concern. Many sodas are primarily comprised of water and corn syrup. Look for 100% juice blends. Some brands are now moving away from HFCS to sugar, but unless it is pure cane sugar, it will include sugar from GM sugar beets. The sweetener Aspartame is derived from GM microorganisms. It is referred to as NutraSweet and Equal and is found in over 6,000 products, including diet drinks and diet sodas. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

Candy, Chocolate & Sweeteners

Many sweeteners, and products like candy and chocolate that contain them, can come from GMO sources. Look for organic and non-GMO sweeteners, products made with 100% cane sugar (to avoid GM beet sugar), evaporated cane juice or organic sugar. And watch out for soy lecithin in chocolates and corn syrup in candies. The sweetener, Aspartame, is derived from GM microorganisms. It is also referred to as NutraSweet or Equal and is found in over 6,000 products, including soft drinks, gum, candy, desserts, yogurt, tabletop sweeteners, some vitamins and sugar-free cough drops. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

Condiments, Oils, Dressings & Spreads

Unless labeled explicitly, corn, soybean, cottonseed, and canola oils produced in North America almost certainly contain genetically modified products. Choose other oils, such as pure olive, coconut, sesame, sunflower, safflower, almond, grapeseed, and peanut oils. Also choose preserves, jams, and jellies with cane sugar, not unspecified “sugar” (which will likely contain GM beet sugar) or corn syrup. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

Dairy Products

Some U.S. dairy farms inject the genetically engineered recombinant bovine growth hormone, rbGH (also called rbST), into their cows to boost milk production. There are now many dairy products with labels that indicate they do not use rbGH or rbST. Their cows may still be fed GM feed. Organic dairy products are not allowed to intentionally use rbGH or GM grains as animal feed. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project (the Non-GMO Project Standard does not allow the use of rbGH and sets rigorous testing thresholds for GMO presence in animal feed). To view a list of brands that do not use rbGH but are not yet enrolled in the Non-GMO Project, please visit nongmoshoppingguide.com/rbgh.

Feed & Seed

If you're raising poultry or livestock and want to avoid GM feed in your animals' diet, look for organic and Non-GMO Project verified products. Talk to your veterinarian for detailed information on providing a balanced diet for your livestock. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- Arrowhead Mills
- High Mowing Organic
Seeds Company
- Mighty Mustard
- Modesto Milling
- Multiple Organics
- Rivara
- Scratch and Peck
- Sunfood Superfoods

Fruits & Vegetables (canned & frozen)

Very few fresh fruits and vegetables for sale are genetically modified. Novel products such as seedless watermelons are not genetically modified. Small amounts of zucchini, yellow crookneck squash, and sweet corn may be GM. The only commercialized GM fruit is papaya from China and Hawaii—about half of Hawaii's papayas are GM. Even if the fruit or vegetable is non-GMO, if it is packaged, frozen, or canned, there may be GM additives. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

Meat, Fish & Eggs

No genetically modified fish, fowl, or livestock is yet approved for human consumption. However, plenty of foods are produced from animals raised on GM feed such as grains. To avoid products from animals fed GMOs, look for organic products, wild caught (such as wild fish or game), and 100% grass-fed animals. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- 365
- Fairfield Specialty Eggs
- Field Day

Mercantile

The Mercantile category is in its beginning stages but will feature an expanding list of brands offering organic and Non-GMO Project verified dry-goods, packaging alternatives, and other merchandise. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- BioBag
- CleanVia
- Desert Essence
- If You Care
- VerTerra Dinnerware
- World Centric

Packaged/Frozen Meals

Many frozen and packaged meals are highly processed. Keep an eye out for derivatives of GM soy and corn, oil from canola & cottonseed, and sugar from GM sugar beets. Some or all of the products produced by the brands featured on below are verified by the Non-GMO Project:

- A Moveable Feast

Invisible GM Ingredients

Processed foods often have hidden GM sources (unless they are organic or declared non-GMO). The following are ingredients that may be made from GMOs:

Aspartame (also called AminoSweet®, NutraSweet®, Equal Spoonful®, Canderel®, BeneVia®, E951®)	diglyceride	leucine	soy oil
baking powder	erythritol	lysine	soy protein
canola oil (rapeseed oil)	Equal®	malitol	soy protein isolate
caramel color	food starch	malt	soy sauce
cellulose	fructose (any form)	malt syrup	starch
citric acid	glucose	malt extract	stearic acid
cobalamin (vit B12)	glutamate	maltodextrin	sugar (unless cane sugar)
colorose	glutamic acid	maltose	tamari
condensed milk	glycerides	mannitol	tempeh
confectioners sugar	glycerin	methylcellulose	teriyaki marinades
corn flour	glycerol	milk powder	textured vegetable protein
corn masa	glycerol monooleate	milo starch	threonine
corn meal	glycine	modified food starch	tocopherols (vit E)
corn oil	hemicellulose	modified starch	tofu
corn sugar	high fructose corn syrup (HFCS)	mono and diglycerides	trehalose
corn syrup	hydrogenated starch	monosodium glutamate (MSG)	triglyceride
cornstarch	hydrolyzed vegetable protein	Nutrasweet®	vegetable fat
cottonseed oil	inositol	oleic acid	vegetable oil
cyclodextrin	invert sugar	Phenylalanine	vitamin B12
cystein	inversol	phytic acid	vitamin E
dextrin	invert sugar	protein isolate	whey
dextrose	isoflavones	shoyu	whey powder
diacetyl	lactic acid	sorbitol	xanthan gum
	lecithin	soy flour
		soy isolates
		soy lecithin
		soy milk

Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) although usually derived from corn, is probably not GM because it is not likely made in North America.

among people who care about the future of our food.

- What is TPN? TPN is about empowering local groups to inspire change through outreach and community.
- How? By educating our communities about the risks of GMOs and what we can do about it.

Turns out, you can save the world by simply educating.

Consumer Education + Rejection = GMO Elimination

We encourage you to get active and get involved.
Together, we can create the Tipping Point!

- TPN—it's easy and it's free
- Meet other non-GMO activists in your own community
- Create a local support network
- Join an action group to help educate others

The Tipping Point Network is sponsored by

THE INSTITUTE FOR RESPONSIBLE TECHNOLOGY

...and its mission of:

- educating consumers about the documented risks of genetically modified foods.
- creating a tipping point of consumer rejection.
- forcing genetically modified organisms out of our food supply.

Dedication to our mission would not be possible without the support of individuals like you. Your tax-deductible gift allows these shopping guides to reach millions of consumers and contribute to the tipping point of consumer rejection of GMOs. Working together, we can end the genetic engineering of our food supply.

The Institute for Responsible Technology is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. We appreciate your contribution allowing us to educate even more consumers about the brands that are safe for us and the environment.
